APPS

Nowadays there are millions of apps for your mobile phone. Most of them are very and they can be very useful. We have applications for many different uses such as checking the weather, manage your shopping list, meet people or organize your day. You can even use them to learn English by downloading dictionaries or games like the ones from the British Council, Duolingo or Babbel and compete with your friends. The advantages of these programs are many: you can use them everywhere, they are attractive for teenagers, and they are very easy to use.
